THE TORPEDO IN NAVAL WAR.

The naval correspondent of a home paper deals with the future of the torpedo, and anticipates its playing a more prominent part than it is at present credited with. He writes:—

Not the least important lesson learned during the recent manoeuvres was the fact that, thanks largely to increased efficiency derived from the gyroscope, the Whitehead torpedo is a weapon to be taken into very serious consideration in future naval battles. Seven or eight ships were actually struck thereby, and altogether a great impression was made. For some years past there has been a growing but very mistaken tendency throughout the Service to ignore the possibilities and capabilities of torpedoes in actual warfare. In a word, the reputation of the Whitehead has been at a discount; though, when one comes to consider the question, it is difficult to see why, for the gyroscope is no longer a new thing, and everyone knows the improvement which it has brought about in the value of the torpedo. Probably the growing conviction that battle firing will be carried out at long ranges has something to do with this failure to give Whitehead torpedoes their due; and, indeed, it is difficult to believe that the use of submerged tubes in action will be anything else but extremely limited. On the other hand, destroyers—and before long, submarines as well—appear to be destined to have considerable voice in the settlement of the next naval struggle; and who knows but that greater glory awaits the torpedo than either the gun or the ram?

STEAM AND SAIL.

The detailed account of the late voyage of the Sunbeam to Canada and back, given by Lord Brassey in a letter to the Times, has interest from a higher standpoint than that of the yachtsman. It shows, for one thing, that, for certain purposes, a combination of steam and sail power has considerable advantages compared with the use of either by itself. On the outward voyage of the famous schooner, contrary winds were so much in evidence that only 830 miles out of 3,636 were accomplished by sailing. But on the way back to England, the position was reversed, no more than 240 miles having to be performed under steam. The coal consumption for the entire trip—a matter of vital importance on long voyages—was consequently kept down to 140 tons, but the yacht nevertheless managed to maintain an average speed of 202 miles a day. Lord Brassey also bears witness to the good resulting to crews from occasional resort to sail power alone; it completes the professional equipment of the "handy man" and safeguards him from growing rusty in seamanship and hardiness of the old sort. Of course, it is not given to all to possess a staunch cruiser of 227 tons, capable of going anywhere and facing all sorts of weather. But it would certainly be to the national advantage if some of the enormous sums spent on international yacht racing—machine racing would be the more accurate description—were diverted to that purpose. Skimming dish craft would fare very badly if caught in the tail end of the recent hurricane, as the Sunbeam was when approaching soundings last Saturday. But she weathered the heavy gale and the tremendous seas splendidly, and does not appear to have suffered in any way.—Globe.

Reuter, to the effect that official information has been received that Russia is actively fortifying Yung-an-pho, the possession of the Yalu river, has a gravity of aspect which is apparent to all those who have studied, even superficially, the causes for the political tension at present existing between the two Powers. Information given in a preceding telegram, originating from the German capital, held out hopes for a peaceful termination of the crisis; but the important news now to hand, which implies that Russia is determined to maintain a foothold in Corea, seems likely to complicate the situation to a degree that is dangerous in the extreme. So long as the main cause of dispute, between Japan and Russia, consisted in the continually postponed fulfilment of the promises made by the second of these two countries with regard to the evacuation of Manchuria, there were hopes of settlement; but as the National Review so ably puts it:—"One thing is certain, viz., that however patient Japan may be as regards Russian movements in Manchuria, if any serious step were taken threatening the integrity and independence of Corea, the Japanese rifles would go off of their own accord." The new phase which the crisis now seems to have reached, is a remarkable confirmation of the opinions expressed by Dr. Morrison in one of his recent letters to the Times, in which he states—"Corea is inevitably destined to be the field where the great problem of Russian or Japanese supremacy in the Far East will be solved." It is impossible to ignore the moderation and self-restraint shown by Japan with regard to the Manchurian question; indeed, her attitude is worthy of admiration when it is considered that the country now occupied by the Muscovite troops was once the legitimate fruit of her victory over China, and of which she was deprived by the joint action of Germany, France and Russia. Also, it must be remembered that Japan, like the United Kingdom, does not grow sufficient grain to feed her densely-populated islands, and her people depend largely on Corean crops for their maintenance. It will, therefore, be easily understood that it would be impossible for any Japanese Government, who allowed Russia to establish herself in Corea, to remain in power for twenty-four hours. Several months ago, the correspondent of the Times at Tokio gave, in that journal, a remarkably clear and far-seeing exposé of the situation, saying:—"Korea, of course, is the cynosure of Japan's attention. In the three eastern Chinese provinces her material interests resemble those of England—namely, that the locus of the region's sovereignty would not greatly concern her if only its markets remained open to her commerce and its borders to her settlers. She regards Manchuria as a field where her surplus population may find a livelihood and the products of her industries an outlet. Politically, however, the roots of the question strike a great deal deeper. It seems to many Japanese statesmen that, if Manchuria falls into the hands of a strong and aggressive Western Power, especially a Power holding Vladivostok, Corea, being situated on the Liaotung-Vladivostok line of communications, must ultimately be added to that Power's dominions. Moreover, the anomaly of Russia's exclusion from a maritime outlet in Europe would be as nothing compared with her tenure of the little-accessible littorals of Amur and Liaotung, while Corea, lying midway, with its fine harbours and easy approaches, was closed against her Imperial enterprises. But with Corea in her hands, Russia's batteries would be almost within range of Japanese shores. It was an appreciation of that sequence of certainties that took Japan to Liaotung in 1895, and would have reconciled her to the sacrifices involved in holding the littoral of the Bay of Corea from the Yalu's mouth to Port Arthur. Driven from that position, and threatened with the absorption of Manchuria into Russia's domain, the Japanese have to choose between two policies. One is to maintain the integrity of China's Empire, thus ensuring Corean independence against assaults from the north; the other to abandon Manchuria to its fate, provided that Corea's security can be purchased by the sacrifice.

What, however, would such a sacrifice signify? If, in consideration of the obstacle to Russia's annexation of Manchuria, Japan received nothing beyond a Russian assurance to respect Corean independence, could that be counted a quid pro quo? It might have been so estimated at one time, but, by the light of recent events, faith in St.
Petersburg's promises has failed. News was received from the north, several days ago, that the Russian authorities had sent troops to Yung-an-pho and that she had landed 1,500 tons of coal, flour and military stores at that port. These movements were denied at the time by the official press at Port Arthur, but there can be no doubt at present as to their exactitude, and it is more than probable that, within the next week, we shall know whether or not Far Eastern Asia is to echo a call to arms. In the event of an outbreak of hostilities, there is a factor to be counted with, which, though it is generally overlooked by the majority of our countrymen, is of extreme importance. Warfare to the possible attitude of Germany. With regard to this question the National Review gives warning that our Government might do well to bear in mind, for our contemporary states—"It is needless to say that Germany is resorting to every device in order to bring about a war between Russia and Japan, into which the wily statesman of Berlin foresees that both France and England might be drawn by their obligations to their respective Allies.
It is so obvious to every dispassionate observer that Germany alone stands to gain through such a cataclysm, that we cannot help hoping it may be averted; but we cannot avert it by merely looking the other way." On more than one occasion, in these columns, we have drawn attention to the waiting polity played by Germany in the Far East. It is therefore needless for us to enlarge on opinions already expressed, but the danger of the situation is so apparent that for diplomats to ignore it would be a crime unspeakable.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ANOTHER coolie was fined $10 or fourteen days' hard labour at the Magistracy this morning for boarding the German mail s.s. Hamburg without permission.

THE China Navigation Company, according to a statement in a recent number of Engineering, are building four new 16-knot boats for their Australia-Japan line.

ENTRIES for the Hongkong Cricket League will close to-morrow, the 31st inst., and a meeting of representatives of the Clubs interested will be held on the 1st of November.

A COOK was sentenced to six months' hard labour by Mr. Kemp at the Magistracy this morning for burglariously entering a dwelling house and stealing a red blanket.

which went ashore on the Brambram Reef in the Banks Straits on Friday, the 16th inst., arrived at Singapore on 24th inst. ex city a week behind her scheduled time.

THE London correspondent of the Indian Daily Telegraph recently wired that, in spite of continued rumours that hostilities are impending between Russia and Japan, in well-informed circles, both in London and in Washington, the opinion is that they will be averted.

THE B. N. B. Herald is now able to announce that Mr. J. T. Clarke, the mining expert, verifies Mr. E. H. Phillips's report of the value of the Serudong coal seam. It is 6 ft 10 in thick, the dip 1 in 12, the situation of the outcrop is favourable, and no trouble from water is anticipated.

THREE masters of cargo boats appeared before Mr. Sercombe Smith at the Magistracy this morning charged with unlawfully anchoring their boats at a distance less than a hundred yards from low water mark between Kowloon Point and Yaumati Police Station during prohibited hours. $10 or fourteen days each.

THE P. M. G. Naval correspondent announces that Captain Percy Scott, who is now in charge of the gunnery establishment at Whale Island, is bringing into operation a number of changes provided for in the New Naval Scheme.
Drilling among seamen-gunners has been reduced to a minimum and more time is now being devoted to gunnery practice.

A NOTIFICATION is posted up at the entrance of the Central Police Station to the effect, that a native, aged 30, probably a boatman or a coolie, height five feet eight inches, was found dead in a small basket on Connaught Road, West, on the 29th inst. Another notification is to the effect that a corpse was found floating in the harbour, near Queen's Statue Wharf, on the 23rd inst.

By kind permission of Major Radcliffe and Officers, the Band of the 33rd Burma Infantry

THE master of the s.s. Suniva was summoned at the Magistracy this morning for failing to provide doable rat flanges on board his ship.
He was fined $10.

Mrs. Charlotte Hartwell, wife of the Rev. J. B.
Hartwell, D.D., of the American Southern Baptist Mission, died of dysentery on the morning of the 4th inst. in Tengkhoufu.

THE Japanese Home Secretary has prohibited the sale of a book of "Songs Prophecying War between Japan and Russia," and a book of "Songs of the Russo-Japanese Military War."

JOHN Griffiths, recently in the employ of Messrs. Panchard, Lowther & Co., was again brought before Mr. Kemp to-day on a charge of perjury. Further evidence was taken, and his Worship adjourned the case till Monday.

NEWS comes from Peking to the effect that on the 16th inst. at 10 a.m., the French and German Ministers, the Governor of Khabarovsk and the French Admiral were received in audience by the Emperor at the Jenchow palace.

THE Ind. China s.s. Hinsung, Captain Sawyer, arrived to-day with a cargo of sugar from Java.
Lat. 2° 55' N. long. 110° 57' E. she sighted a British sailing ship who signalled her number.
The signals could not be correctly read, but were believed to be T S K P.

THE statistics of Chinese immigration and emigration returns of Selangor for the past ten years show that the number of immigrants was greater in 1902 than in the previous year, and in fact exceeded the number in any year since 1896 with the exception of 1900.

WE understand that, on the trial trip of the Panther, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, she steamed over the usual three-mile course at an average speed of 13.5 knots.
Immediately afterwards she proceeded to Nagasaki. She is officered by Japanese.

THE French cruiser Chateau Renault, which went to Nagasaki from Shanghai to be docked at Tategami, was to leave Nagasaki on the 28th inst. to undergo repairs on arrival at Yokohama. The biggest dock at Nagasaki is now occupied by the M. M. steamer Australien.

CAPTAIN Mahlmann, who for many years occupied the post of harbour-master at Kobé, has been decorated by the Emperor of Japan with the third class of the Order of the Sacred Treasure, which carries a pension with it. The fourth class of the Order of the Rising Sun had previously been conferred on him. Captain Mahlmann retired from the Japanese service last year.

LATE cables to Australia state that it is very probable that the Rt. Hon. J. Chamberlain will visit Australia and New Zealand in the course of his temporary freedom from the cares of office by visiting Australia and Canada. On being interviewed, he expressed himself as averse to the formation of any party hostile to the present Government, though he would be prepared at any time to accept and act upon a mandate from the country in favour of his preferential tariff proposals.

WITH reference to the grounding of the German steamer Savonia on a sand bank in the channel between Ikeshima and Hiroshima, near Nagasaki, on 17th inst., we understand that as so far as the news became known in the Colonies Mr. James W. Graham, as representing the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd., left for the North in order to endeavour to secure the ship for the Company's docks.
Upon his arrival, however, he learned that the vessel was to be repaired at Nagasaki.

ACCORDING to a recent report, the North China Railway and Steamship Co. has decided to include Joshin, Korea, among the ports of call. Formerly, the company's steamships touched at only two points in Korea and in the first part of July their steamer touched at Joshin for the first time. The manager of the Amur district has decided on this line of action, partly to satisfy the wishes of the Russian merchants at Vladivostok, but largely on account of the large shipments of live stock from Joshin to different ports.

LEUNG Shing, an unemployed coolie, formerly employed by the Kwong Shing, silversmith shop, was charged before Mr. Sercombe Smith at the Magistracy this morning with demanding and obtaining $100 in money from Tsoi Choi, a partner of the Tak Kee Shop, at No. 18 Ko Shing Street, by virtue of a forged order on the 28th inst. According to the evidence taken it appears that the Tak Kee Shop deposited $100 in the Kwong Shing Shop and defendant, through the forged order and the Tak Kee's chop, obtained the money, and was arrested while leaving for Canton. His Worship sentenced him to six months' imprisonment.

THE Inspector-General of Police in the Punjab reports that plague has undoubtedly led to an increase in burials and offences against property, and the effect of plague on crime requires to be carefully watched. The most regrettable crime due to plague and the most difficult to deal with is that which takes the form of burglaries and thefts in evacuated places. In existing circumstances it is not possible to afford adequate Police protection to all evacuated places; but it is hoped that the people resorting to evacuation will, by appointing their own special "chowkidars," make greater use than they have done hitherto of the power of self-protection which they can exercise.—Ex.

One of the soldier-priests of the Church of England, the Rev. F. L. T. Curtis, of All Saints, Brighton, has resigned his incumbency.
He was gazetted ensign on December 30, 1864, lieutenant in 1869, and captain in 1877, and saw service in Canada against the Fenian raid in 1867, and again in the Afghan campaign of 1878-80, in which he commanded the advanced guard at the action of Nargashai, and proceeded to Kabul in 1880 in command of details for General Roberts's force. For his services he was mentioned in despatches. In 1885 he was ordained, with the sanction of his Royal Highness the Commander-in-Chief, by the Bishop of Lichfield, Dr. MacLagan.

THE Sin Wan Pao is informed that it has been decided that all preparations for an elaborate celebration of the Empress Dowager's seventieth birthday next year should cease at once. After the Mid-Autumn Festival, Shih Shui, President of the Board of Civil Appointments, who ventured to propose to her Majesty that her birthday should be celebrated, in a fitting style, was severely reprimanded by her Majesty who added that he should feel with others the difficulties the Empress was in and should not repeatedly present such a proposal, consequently, those officials who hoped to be appointed to some offices in connection with the event and others who had been cashiered or degraded and hoped to have their ranks restored to them on the festive occasion, are greatly disappointed.

CHARLES Ernest Wharton was tried at the British Consulate Swatow, on 16th inst., on the charge of killing a native watchman attached to the Imperial Customs. The trial has been long delayed on account of the difficulty of securing the presence of a judge, says the Swatow correspondent of the *N. C.
D. News*. The judge who tried the case was F. S. A. Hurne, Esq., and the Crown Advocate, Mr. W. A. C. Platt. The prisoner was at the time of the assault a tide-waiter in the Imperial Customs, and had a good record, holding medals for South Africa and North China. He pleaded guilty to the charge, which was virtually one of manslaughter, as the medical evidence showed that the death was only indirectly the result of the assault, the man dying of tetanus following on blood-poisoning. The prisoner was sentenced to five months imprisonment with hard labour.

ALLEGED WHOLESALE
KIDNAPPING.

Several weeks ago a gang of ten Chinese picked the lock of a hut in a village of Liu-chow district, and were surprised on opening the door to find the occupants ready to resist them. A scuffle ensued and the scoundrels, being victorious, carried away two girls and proceeded to the coast. Subsequently a girl belonging to the same village left her home to visit a friend, nineteen miles away, and when about half way on her journey two men accosted her and subjected her to brutal treatment, giving her to understand that if she screamed she would be cut to pieces.
They then took her across country to a junk and, placing her on board where there were twelve other women, set sail for Hongkong.
After a stormy passage the junk arrived in British waters and eventually pulled up in the harbour. Some time after Mr. Sercombe Smith of the affair, and as the result of investigations succeeded in effecting the arrest of two men who were identified by two women as having kidnapped them. They were taken before Mr. Kemp at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon and charged with kidnapping. The case was adjudged, and upon coming before his Worship this afternoon the men, who had pleaded not guilty, were convicted, and sent to prison for twelve months with hard labour.

A BIT OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

This is the title of a smart little publication containing some typical views illustrating the scenic beauties of Hongkong and neighbourhood, which reaches us together with a number of Christmas and New Year's cards from Messrs.
Kelly & Walsh. The views are taken off the beaten track of the photographer and are beautifully reproduced on art paper, and should make a unique souvenir of Hongkong for friends at home. In proof of their popularity it might be mentioned that the work is already in its second edition. The preparation of suitable cards for Christmas and the New Year, has been receiving more attention of late with the result that publishers have now attained some most artistic designs. The specimens to hand from Messrs. Kelly & Walsh are exceptionally pleasing and should find a rapid sale in Hongkong. Street scenes and other views, characteristic of life in Hongkong, are faithfully portrayed, and give a splendid idea of our surroundings.

VOLUNTEERS IN CAMP.

There was a considerable falling off in the number of volunteers who came into camp yesterday evening, and the attendance was a poor one, not more than from 70 to 80 men, putting in an appearance. The sudden sharp snap of cold weather was probably the cause of this abstinence. Drill on the maxims and 15 lbs. B.L. guns took place this morning at 6.15. The corps was dismissed at 7.45 a.m. instead of 8.15, as on previous occasions, so that the men were able to get their breakfast before returning to the city. The date of the big "sing-song," that was to have taken place on Tuesday last, but which was postponed owing to the gale, has not yet been fixed, though to-morrow will probably be the day chosen.

THE BELLIOUS TERRACE
ROBBERY.

The case in which Chan Chung, carpenter, of San-Hing, and Yau Ngan, of Shan-Tak, are charged, with others, not in custody, with stealing jewelry, etc., of the total value of $300, and wounding and using personal violence against Ada Marie Bateman and Fung Ng, her amah, on the 16th September, was again before Mr. Sercombe Smith this afternoon. Mr. F. B.
L. Bowley, Crown Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution.

Sergeant Sullivan deposed that on the afternoon of the robbery he went to 18, Bellios Terrace and found one of the rooms in a disorderly condition, with articles of clothing, etc., strewn about the floor.—Mr. Sharp, assistant of the P. W. D., produced tracings of plans of the premises.—Miss Ada Bateman gave evidence to the effect that on the day in question she was ill in bed, and at 2.15 p.m. sent one of her amahs to market. Subsequently her second amah brought her a letter, enclosed in an envelope, and placed inside of a second envelope, upon which was some scribbling. She was looking at it, and upon glancing up saw one man standing in the doorway and three others hiding behind. Two of them then entered the room and seized her by the throat and a struggle ensued. She was bound and gagged, and pillows were piled upon her. She finally managed to get free, and then called in her neighbours. The police were notified.

Chan Chung was eventually committed for trial.

MACAO NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

MACAO, 28th October.

THE RECENT GALE
was hardly felt here. The glass went down just a little. Mine, which is one of the Rev.
Faura's, S.J., registered 755 millimetres, and, according to the indication on the face by the notable director of the Manila Observatory, denoted "variable weather." This morning it read 771 millimetres. The rise was a rapid one. The black drum denoting the approach of a typhoon was hoisted up yesterday at the harbour office and the Guia fort. It is worthy of note that the wind which was gradually growing in intensity blew all the time from one direction, viz., N.E. It then veered to N. when the wind moderated. Last year the same thing happened in December.
The steamer Euanghien, which left Hongkong yesterday at 2 p.m. as usual, for Macao, had to anchor for the night near Two Brothers and it was only this morning that she arrived here. A death occurred on board the steamer yesterday. It was a case of a Chinese woman who had been ill.

The French gunboat Ugland, which was anchored in mid-stream in the inner harbour, steamed to the Euanghien wharf and was moored there. It is said that the gunboat lost an anchor and a few fathoms of cable. Her commander thought at first of seeking shelter up the river, but on account of the wind and tide could not reach a place of refuge soon enough.

People on the Pny Grande saw a Chinese junk some distance away in the roadstead in imminent danger of foundering. A Government steam-launch put out to rescue the native craft, from her perilous position and, fortunately, succeeded to get a towing line on board. By this means the boat was towed into safety.
The rescue was not, however, accomplished before a woman and a child were washed overboard. Might not the Government provide at comparatively little cost suitable vessels for the purpose of saving life in such emergencies?

YESTERDAY a fire occurred in one of the native cake shops in Tarrafra. It was a fortunate circumstance that the manual engines of a station close to the scene of the outbreak arrived in time before the fire could get a firm hold of the building. It was put out before much damage was done.

EXPLOSION.

Yet another explosion in the firecracker factories has to be recorded. In the small hours of this morning a little factory in the neighbourhood of "Santa Sancha," a few hundred yards distant from the "Boa Vista Hotel," was seen in flames. Several Chinese, working on the premises were horribly burnt and the remains of others were found in a charred condition. The origin of the disaster is unknown.
A similar one occurred last year when it was attended with shocking fatalities. To prevent future disasters it appears that the manufacture of fire-crackers and the handling of gunpowder in the colony call for greater supervision and better regulation.

MR. L. NOLANCO DA SILVA.

Mr. Nolanco da Silva, Jr., arrived this afternoon. He has just completed his studies at the university of Coimbra, where he took his degrees in law. He was a distinguished student in the Lyceum of Macao as well as in Coimbra. The reception accorded him on his return was a brilliant one. A very large number of friends waited at the wharf to receive him and there was in attendance the amateur band. A fusillade of crackers and fireworks formed not the least conspicuous part of the reception.

SHIPPING AND MAILS.

The Meeting of the Tsar and Kaiser.

Several German papers, in view of the forthcoming meeting of the Tsar and Kaiser, emphasize the opinion that the Russian newspapers are mistaken if they think that Germany is about to depart from her policy of strict neutrality in the Far East.

CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, October 29th.

THE WEATHER.

When I wrote last we were hot. Now we are cold. The change was very sudden. About noon on Tuesday the wind began to blow and by night the thermometer was down in the seventies. This morning it registered sixty-one. The sudden change is felt very much. The Chinese are hurrying along the street as if it were mid-winter. The clothing stores are doing a rushing business. The pawn shops are sending forth their summer stores.

THE VICEROY.

The heavy work and the continued anxiety are telling upon the Viceroy. He has been ill for some days and Dr. Shelby has been attending him. He is not seriously ill, but is in need of a rest. I hear to-day that he has been granted a month in which to regain his strength. The feeling in the city towards the Viceroy has not improved. The official class look upon him as a little tyrant and would be glad to see the last of him. Many of the better class of Chinese think that he is doing the right thing. The business men think he is not giving sufficient attention to the disturbed condition of the country about Canton. The Viceroy of the Two Kwang has a difficult task, and probably our present Viceroy is doing all that could be done under the present condition of things.

THE FOCHOW DIFFICULTY.

The Sin Wan Pao is informed that Tatar General Chung who is acting Viceroy of Fuchow, recently telegraphed to the Waiwupu that M. Doyore, the late Director of the Fochow Arsenal, continued to be stubborn in attitude and was instigating French missionaries of the Province to raise side issues and therefore he was not only putting difficulties in the way of the Arsenal management, but was also involving the province into deeper entanglement with missionary cases. The French Minister at Peking had been on handwinked by him that the latter was ready to take his part to the last, therefore it was necessary to have the matter thoroughly gone into, so as to convince the Minister of his error and force M. Doyore into submission. The Tatar General concluded by asking the Waiwupu not to yield the slightest, otherwise the result would be disastrous, etc. Now some officials have suggested to Prince Ching to invite a prominent person of a third nation to arbitrate and settle the matter.

THE PEKING CANARD.

The Peking and Tientsin Times of the 22nd inst. contains the following:—

A correspondent sends us what is the most intelligible statement of the munition robbery at the Legation which has yet been made. Referring to the message of the Times correspondent, our informant says:—

The message was sent without verification at the Legation, probably upon the authority of a heretofore reliable informant. Sir Ernest Satow telegraphed to London, Tokio, and Shanghai refuting the statements. What occurred, according to Colonel Rower, Commander of the Legation Guard, was a theft was committed by common Chinese thieves from the Chinese City. Among the munition materials which they attempted to carry off was electrical apparatus used in the construction of mines and this was relinquished by the thieves at the last moment and left dangling over the wall by which they escaped. A quantity of gun parts, such as sights, etc., was taken, but all has been recovered except a small balance not exceeding ten pounds sterling in value.

The supposition that these things were the paraphernalia of conspirators is held to be ridiculous by the British at the Legation and the barrack because they are identified as the property of the Legation and were missing from the store room. It is unlikely, from their point of view, that conspirators would rely upon the materials in the magazine for laying their train and fuse exploding devices.

THE SUGAR INDUSTRY.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

II.

In Queensland a certain amount of white labour is employed, and the management of the estates is, in most cases, in the hands of former Demerara and other West-Indian planters. Apart from the cane obtained from the larger estates, many of which are worked by contract labour—generally Kanakas, South Sea Islanders, Chinamen or Javanese, the Queensland sugar mills buy a good deal from little planters, either of European (Australian) or of Chinese and Kanaka origin. The factories pay for a ton of cane the exorbitant price of from 12s. 6d. to 14s., although, for many years past, the price of sugar has not exceeded 5s. per picul for the first quality and 5s. to 7s. for the second in the rest of the world. It is supposed, that the net produce of a ton of Queensland cane is equal to that of the Java plant; this is doubtful, however. The transport by water of the cane to the mill, the cost of crushing and boiling the sugar, etc., and the profit of the mill, combined, certainly could not make up for the little difference in price of the cane and of the prepared sugar, if legislation in Australia and New Zealand had not taken care to almost entirely prohibit foreign competition. In Auckland, in Sydney and in Queensland large refineries are built and, ten years ago, foreign refined sugar was struck with an import duty of 45 per cent, or more than 5s. per picul, i.e., half the cost of production of sugar in Mauritius, Java, the Straits Settlements, Philippines, China and Japan, the possible importing countries.

This enormous duty has since been reduced to 25 per cent, which is quite sufficient to check foreign competition and to keep his home markets for the Australian, at the enormous price, superior even to the shameful retail cost of 5d. per pound, which, until lately, was paid by German consumers of beet-sugar. A small quantity of cane is produced in New South Wales; this is grown almost entirely by white and Chinese labour.

Even this enormous protective duty in favour of the Australian and Fiji Island sugar is not altogether capable of keeping Java sugar out of the antipodes. The centre of the Queensland sugar industry is Mackay in the Australian "Mongrelia," so called from the extraordinary blending of races which exists there, a special result of the sugar industry, which is also remarkable in the Sandwich Islands, whose European immigrants work shoulder to shoulder with Portuguese from the Azores, Yankees, Canadians, Australians, Kanakas, Chinamen and Javanese.

An important company of Sydney, the Australian Sugar Refining Co., which has works at Sydney and Auckland, plays the principal rôle in the production of sugar in the Fiji Islands. The mill at Nausoria is locally said to be the largest sugar refinery in the world; but the same is said of a Mackay mill, and it is probable that the Caledonia Estate (Perak Sugar Co.) which has a yearly output of 5,000 tons is not inferior in importance to the Australian mills. Almost all the alluvial plains of the Fiji Islands have been turned into fields of sugar cane. These are worked by Bengalese coolies—imported 700 to 800 at a time in sailing vessels—who are about the laziest and most insolent class of labour it has been the lot of the writer to deal with, and as workmen are far inferior to the Klings employed in the Straits. Should the Australian and New Zealand Parliaments abolish the sugar duties, which is probable, the Fiji industry is doomed.

The island of Mauritius produces about 8% of the total output of the world, and is therefore no mean factor in the sugar industry. However, the terrible storms, that from time to time work such havoc to the buildings and plantations in the island, and the fact that labour has to be imported from the Malabar coast are conditions that go far to hamper the greater development of the Mauritian industry. A sugar country of more interest to the Hongkong market is the Malay province of Wellesley and the adjoining state of Perak. In the first of these, cultivation is concentrated on the western seashore, south of Penang, and some of the old estates, like Alma and Malakoff, evidently started after the Crimean war, have reverted to tobacco and other cultures. There are two large European-owned plantations, viz., the Batu Kawan estate, about an hour by launch from Penang, and the Caledonia mill, reference to which has already been made. The sugar fields of the Straits are about 22 miles long, and run from Batu Kawan, opposite the island of Penang, to the Gula river, where the third (Shanghai owned) European sugar plantation (output 1,200,000 tons) is situated. The width of the fields is variable and nowhere exceeds 3 to 4 miles. The concerns already mentioned are worked with the most modern machinery and a European personnel, as are also a few Chinese-owned mills. Not a few of the latter work their mills with buffaloes and do the boiling in pans resting on clay ovens; but it is remarkable that, notwithstanding the "bad times," of which agriculturists and planters exultingly complain, many of these Celestials, who, not so many years ago, started with a few orlongs of cane fields are now in possession of several hundreds of acres and well built factories.

The lowlands of the Wellesley province and the Krian district of Perak are but narrow strips, and the soil not everywhere fit for the cultivation of either sugar or rice. The ground generally consists of heavy clay with a coating of salt or of brackish water and the adjoining hills are very barren. A crop of 80 piculs of sugar per orlong (15 acres) or 27 piculs per acre is considered a good average while one of 50 piculs per orlong or 34 piculs per acre ranks as a splendid result. It is interesting to compare these results with those obtained in Java, where the standard orlong of land is exactly 15 acres or 1 1/5 orlongs.

In the Dutch Colony, 80 piculs per orlong—45 piculs per acre—is regarded as a bad crop, 100 piculs is an ordinary one, 120 to 130 piculs a good one and 150 piculs and over (85 piculs per acre) is considered an excellent result. As much as 180 piculs per orlong have been obtained, and even the enormous figure of 200 piculs, or 114 piculs per acre has been known, but this is a record crop and a rare occurrence. (To be continued.)

FRANCE AND KWANGSI REBELS.

Peking Oct. 17.—The French Minister again has drawn the attention of the Wai Wai to the fact that the Kwangsi rebels are not suppressed and that they now infest more districts than ever, which will affect French territory greatly, and informed the Board that if the Chinese authorities can not suppress the rebels France will take active steps to protect her own territory by suppressing them with French troops. France intends to take advantage of the disturbed condition in Kwangsi to extend her sphere of influence in that province. —Nicht Nicht.

SWATOW COOLIE TRAFFIC.

The war between the companies for the command of the coolie traffic still continues, writes the Swatow correspondent of the N. C. D. A. News. Both of the companies most concerned have big war funds, and are prepared to spend to the last mark in order to gain their end. And now the news comes that the Siamese are dispensing with the services of their Customs expert, E. Ambrose, Esq. A glance at the Bangkok director shows how many of the offices of State are in the hands of princelings, both needy and incompetent (although these last particulars are only to be read between the lines). If the duties of Assistant General Director of Customs in Bangkok are anything like what they are in China, the welfare of the many immigrants may well be expected to suffer at the hands of men whose only idea of filling a post is to stand in the gate and intercept all possible squeezes.

TRIAL TRIP OF THE S.S. "HONGKONG MARU."

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha's Pacific liner Hongkong Maru has again passed the severe test entitling the Company to a renewal of the same Government subsidy for another period of five years. She was to have made the trial on Tuesday, but owing to the proximity of the typhoon and the rough weather experienced it had to be abandoned, and it was not until yesterday that the majestic steamer set out for the south of the island and steamed over the Government three-mile course. She made a mean average of 17.778 knots, although the requirement of the Japanese Government was only 17 knots. The credit of this successful performance, which is due to Capt. W. E. Filmer and Chief Engineer Seaver, speaks much for the Toyo Kisen Kaisha's three liners, which are now the fastest vessels of the Japanese mercantile marine. On her trial trip the America Maru made 18.20 knots, while the Hongkong Maru has done 17.77, and the Nippon Maru 17.58.

The Hongkong Maru, which sails at noon on Saturday, is despatched on "hurry orders," and before San Francisco is reached she will make up the three days she is behind schedule time.

THE SHELL TRANSPORT COMPANY.

The petroleum trade for the past 18 months has suffered considerably, owing mainly to the appearance on the market of large quantities of petroleum products which could not readily be disposed of. There has been over-production in the Far East and other producing countries, the single exception being America, where the supply has not been sufficient to meet the demand. To avoid a crisis in the markets in which the Shell Company is so largely interested—a crisis consequent upon the severe competition—protracted negotiations have had to take place, which not only required careful consideration but the exercise of much patience, for admittedly it is no easy matter to bring all the competitive parties into harmonious action. The benefits accruing from such a far-reaching policy as that adopted by the Shell Company could not be felt immediately, though there is no doubt that they, together with the Royal Dutch Company, have rendered yeoman service to the industry of the Far East, which they are at the head, by carrying through the amalgamation, which found expression a few weeks ago in the formation of the Asiatic Petroleum Company.

In all the English Petroleum enterprises there are none, which are formed on such a favourable basis to the outside shareholders as the Shell Transport Company. The original owners of the very important fleet, the "Shell" line, namely, Messrs M. Samuel and Co., who have been also the owners of very valuable oil concession in Borneo, as well as predominating partners of the extensive distributing arrangements in the Far East, formed themselves, in 1897, into a company, they taking the value of their properties in ordinary shares to the extent of £18,000,000, of which they are holding at the present time £1,400,000. The effect of this policy alone should be quite sufficient security to all who have deemed it desirable to invest their money in the Shell Transport and Trading Company; for, after all, the outside public are chiefly interested in the preference shares. If the original vendors of most of the English companies would adopt such a policy, namely, to have a large interest in the organisations promoted by them, a great many millions would be preserved for those who have invested their money in the petroleum industry. —The Petroleum Review and Mining News.

SARAWAK.

The Daily Chronicle publishes the following paragraph about Sarawak:—"During the absence from Sarawak of the Rajah, Sir Charles Brooke, who is now enjoying a well-earned holiday in England, the Government of the country is in the capable hands of Mr. Harry Fitz-Gerald Deshon, whose personal acquaintance with North Borneo began over a quarter of a century ago, when he went to Sarawak as a cadet. Not long afterwards he became A. D. C. to the Rajah, and he has since been specially chosen for various important positions calling for nerve and sound judgment. He has been a Resident Commissioner in different parts of the territory, and his knowledge of the country and the people is second only to that of the Rajah himself. As Sir Charles Brooke is now getting on in years—he has been Rajah since 1868—Mr. Deshon will for the future have a good deal to do with the administration of affairs in this model and prosperous section of the great Dyak Island." As some of our readers will note, the above paragraph is somewhat misleading, and certainly requires a few words of explanation, which are supplied by Mr. Gerard Fienness, who writes to the Chronicle:—"North Borneo" is a term which is commonly employed to designate the territory of the North Borneo Company, from which Sarawak is quite separate. The whole of Mr. Deshon's service has been in the Government of the State of Sarawak. There is no such thing as a 'Resident Commissioner' in Sarawak, and the use of the term is misleading, as implying that Sarawak is a colony under the British Crown, instead of being a Sovereign State with its own flag, enjoying only British protection against attack from the outside. When you say that 'as Sir Charles Brooke is now getting on in years, Mr. Deshon will, for the future, have a good deal to do with the administration of affairs . . . you ignore the fact that the Rajah-Muda Charles Vyner Brooke is occupying his proper position as Heir-Apparent, and that, in the case of a Regency, he would naturally be Regent. It so happens that the Rajah-Muda is also in England at the present time, and Mr. Deshon, as senior officer and Resident of Sarawak proper, is left in charge; but that is a fortuitous circumstance which will, in all probability, not recur. Finally, since the King two years ago gave orders that Rajah Brooke's position as ruler of a Sovereign State should be recognised at Court, his proper style and title is 'His Highness the Rajah of Sarawak,' and not 'Sir Charles Brooke.' You would not speak of the Gaekwar of Baroda as 'Sir Sayaji Rao.'"

THE OLD MONOPOLY.

Most United States telegrams and the great majority of the financial letters from New York dwell upon what is described as the "bear tactics" of the Standard Oil group. We are told, says a London paper, that it is "smashing" the market for reasons of its own, and selling things in order to force out weak spots elsewhere, playing the game of "beggars my neighbour" with its old soullessness and success. This has long seemed to us a misinterpretation of the actual position of the said group. We have had a growing conviction for many months now that it is no longer the wealthy group it is popularly supposed to be. We are inclined, on the contrary, to attribute a great deal of the demoralisation and market paralysis now visible on Wall Street to the embarrassment of this Standard Oil gang. Things have not gone well in recent years either with its rank and file or its leaders. The foreign trade in petroleum has by no means yielded the profit it formerly did. Competition with Russian and other Asiatic oils has broken in upon the monopoly to a disastrous extent, and the Trust's shipping adventures clearly yielded no profit, else Mr. J. P. Morgan would not have been put up to form that shipping "combine," by which many people and some financial potentates and banks in the Union are going to be ruined. No, our impression that at the present moment the chief source of weakness in Wall Street lies around the Standard Oil clique, and the failure of some of its chief ornaments would no more take us by surprise than the collapse of the Steel Trust. They have been too blatantly rich on paper, these magnificences, and have not known what to do with the wealth pouring in upon them. Hence it has been utilised to start all manner of gigantic enterprises, and locked up in innumerable undertakings which have proved more or less of a dead loss. Some time ago we were told on excellent authority that the all-absorbing Standard Oil swarm had obtained the control of seven banks in New York over and above the Standard Oil Company's own bank. The total deposits of five of these banks was put at $42,000,000, and altogether upwards of $150,000,000, or £30,000,000, in deposits were alleged to be brought under the control of the Oil monopoly. If statements like this in any degree accord with the facts we may be quite sure that the struggle has been Titanic to avoid collapse. Collapse when it does come, as it must one day, will clear away a good many misconceptions.—The Japan Daily Herald.

THE GERMAN MAIL IN COLLISION.

On the evening of the 23rd inst., the German Mail steamer Hamburg in going to her berth at Tanjong Pagar sank a lighter and badly damaged two others. On arrival of the mail steamer outside the Western Head, the pilot, seeing that the strong ebb tide was causing a current which was difficult to negotiate safely, decided to go round and come in by the Eastern entrance. This was done, and while approaching Borneo Wharf the steamer presumably "broke her shear." And despite the efforts of the helmsman was swept against section 7 by the current, which was running like a mill race. Here the Hamburg sunk one lighter laden with cargo, and badly crushed two others, but was fortunately got under control again, before any other damage was done.—S. F. Press.

CAPTAIN PERCY SCOTT ON WHALE ISLAND.

Captain Percy Scott is gradually bringing into operation at the great naval gunnery establishment at Whale Island, Portsmouth, a number of revolutionary changes provided for in the new Naval Scheme, and also some suggested by himself. During the last few weeks drilling among the seamen-gunners of the establishment has been brought to a minimum, and much of the time previously occupied at drill is now being spent at gunnery practice. The staple work of the men has, of course, always been gunnery, but under the system they will almost exclusively apply themselves to it. Whale Island is to become an academy of naval gunnery, at which only the best of our marksmen will graduate. The naval depot is to be the home of drill and the elementary school of gunnery. The experiment is only being tried at Portsmouth, but if it is successful, and the best authorities believe it will be, it will be adopted at the other ports. Admiral Sir John Fisher said at Osborne Naval College, a few weeks ago, that in two or three years' time the seaman will be a stoker, the stoker a seaman, and the marine—seaman, stoker, and marine. This is the idea of the future Navy, and on this is based Lord Selborne's scheme. At the naval depot recruits will first qualify in a course of drill, after which all will undergo preliminary courses of gunnery, engineering, and, in fact, the chief branches of instruction of which knowledge is required for the efficient working of our ships.

SCOPE OF THE WORK.

At present gunnery only is being experimented with, but it may be taken for granted that the same plan will apply to everything. There will be 4,000 men at the depot, and these will, in parties, be at the same time undergoing instruction in drill, gunnery, engineering, &c. With regard to gunnery, the instruction is to be divided into courses, and at the end of each course examinations in elementary gunnery will be made. The most efficient ten, or thereabouts, in each course will then be drafted to Whale Island for special courses, while the remainder will be classed according to the merits, and specialise in other directions, for which they may be better fitted. Every man who gets to Whale Island will be of superior intelligence, and a good marksman. At the gunnery establishment they will be awarded first-class or other certificates in accordance with their efficiency in the advanced courses, and be drafted from these into the ships of the fleet. The men of the Excellent devote nearly their whole time to gunnery work now, and Captain Percy Scott's "Dotter" system has been brought into use.—Ex.
